Kurhaus, We've Marked These Red Lines...

borders are bullshit no flag but the black flag nation state is a racist concept babylon burn!
you will know us by the x's on our hands you will know us by our raised fists we're the battle line facing you we're young, anger armed anarchists mr. president can't you see that all your pride means nothing to me?
wanna live my life self ruled world-wide, nation states mean nothing to me!
world bank and wto
seattle and genoa
g8, eu, nato
every summit, every mayday you will know us by the brick in your window you will know us by your burning car you shoot protesters, we strike back the world is ours, let's take it back ...your goddamn world means nothing to me!
look at the maquiladora industries in latin america and eastern europe look at your sneakers and t-shirts and the sweatshops they come from they justify their deeds with profits and growth, tell us it is necessary but there is no justice in capitalism no nation! no border! no government! no state! we have to burn down this capitalist world before it's too late if we stand together, we can do it! solidarity is a weapon!
rise up, everybody! join in the fight!
