Kutless, The Rescue

I don't know what's happening Everything around me has come crashing to the ground It's here I see my need In all the devastation I'm praying for a miracle, help me to escape Again

My life is a mass destruction You're pulling me from the mess I'm in You take me away There's glass in the air I'm breathing Somehow my heart keeps beating till You take me away

Will you send an angel A ray of sunlight shining through the darkness of my world That's falling down on me You are my salvation The only one to rescue me from the torment that I'm in Again

My life is a mass destruction You're pulling me from the mess I'm in You take me away There's glass in the air I'm breathing Somehow my heart keeps beating till You take me away

Goodbye my hurting Goodbye my needing Goodbye my worries Goodbye to all of my bleeding

My life is a mass destruction You're pulling me from the mess I'm in You take me away There's glass in the air I'm breathing Somehow my heart keeps beating till You take me away
