

Kwan, My Sweet Enemy

You are sneaking so silently from behind and you give no warning.
Once again find myself solely inviting you to come No idea where you've been hiding enter me, never leave you are so binding
My question: will I ever find a way cos you're so Yo are cruel, never sleep my beloved wicked beast haunting me, my sweet enemy Dominate and control I've got nowhere to go I am under your appealing glow
You are leading me far from this place where I rest and my soul is in harmony
