

Kym Marsh, Sentimental

If this is where its at
Why do I feel cold air
Every hour of every day
I just want you closer
If I didn't feel a thing
I guess it would be easy
To turn and walk away
and never see you leave me.
There's nothing wrong but some things,
Happening I'm falling
You give me one sunshine,
I say I like the moon
You give me a rainbow,
when I'm feeling black and blue
And I have cold shoulders,
But I'm still on for your touch
Does that make me sentimental too?
This isn't really me
I try to hide my colours
Baby turn to black and white
By so many others
There's nothing wrong but some things,
Happening I'm falling
You give me one sunshine,
I say I like the moon
You give me a rainbow,
when I'm feeling black and blue
And I have cold shoulders,
But I'm still on for your touch
Does that make me sentimental too?
I see your smile its so right
I wont run away this time
Your too good to lose
So I guess that's true
I must be sentimental too, for you.
You give me one sunshine,
I say I like the moon
You give me a rainbow,
when I'm feeling black and blue
And I have cold shoulders,
But I'm still on for your touch
Does that make me sentimental too?
I guess that makes me sentimental too.
