

Kyte, Secular Ventures

Entrapped in ice, blind with rage
With love, he tried, don't forget
He's watching over you.

Withdrawn from life, wait for days
Bring out the dead, wasted smiles
I'll never stop you fall

The cold dress warm, alls not lost
The smiles and sparks, all fall down.
Into the blue again.

Before they left, all was fine
They laughed and cried, never slept
Until the light began
