

L'Arc~En~Ciel, Anata

unable to sleep, i look at the window's moon i think about that day in the stairway to the sky, i walked up each step by step no matter how far i try to look there was nothing but either in joyful or sad time YOU're always stay by my side in the ship without map we float to the darkness to the morning contiuing try to shine, just like that star *from someday on in my heart it'll shine because YOU're here all squeezed tears till dry, feels so precious because YOU're here
to your heart
to your heart
to your heart i need your love and care
