

La Bouche, Do you still need me?

You wouldn't leave me, not for a moment
But when your sleeping, you don't reach out to hold me tight
I'm a fool for those things like you still need me
Do you still love me, is it love anyway
You live in your world, and I can't follow
If you still need me, then I wish I could hear you say
I'm a fool for those things like you still love me
What ya gonna do, what ya gonna do, what ya gonna do
If I can't tell you
What ya gonna do, what ya gonna do, what ya gonna do
I can't tell you
If I run away
Do you still need me, do tears cloud my mind
Sometimes I wonder, just where we were heading
I can remember, those we had were the best of times
I'm a fool for those things like you still need me
I'll never go never go till I hear you say.....
Do you still need me, like you did the first time
You wouldn't leave me, not for a moment
Where are your kisses, that would keep me awake all night
I'm a fool for those things like you still need me
Do you still love me, was it love anyway
You live in your world, and I can't follow
If you still need me, then I wish I could hear you say
I'm a fool for those things like you still love me
Do you still need me
