

Lady And Bird, Blue Skies

Blue skies are in the middle of a winter storm
While your blue eyes are looking at me like before
Still those blue skies are in the middle of a winter storm
While your blue eyes are looking at me like before

I find you
I find you happy for today
I mind you
I mind you ever going to stay

Blue skies are in the middle of a winter storm
While your blue eyes are looking at me like before
Still those blue skies are in the middle of a winter storm
While your blue eyes are looking at me like before

I find you
I find you happy for today
I mind you
I mind you ever going to stay

Through the window of my neighbours
There are fallen leaves
In my pillow
There are feathers i will wait
Until the morning light

Watch me before I go
Go tonight

If the wind blows on my window
There are fallen leaves

Watch me before I go
Go tonight
