

Lagwagon, Dinner And A Movie

Here we go again
Until one of us says when
Making old mistakes
The brake lights illuminate
Accidents repeat
You can count on me
Crushing you in vain
'Cause I will save you
You can hate me
We're so well adjusted
Darlin' it's pathetic justice
Find out where I breathe
Suffocate my needs
Van Gough kept his ears
But I will love you
You won't save me
We're so well adjusted
Darlin' it's pathetic justice
It's already better than last time I ruined another girl's life
I am a portrait of serenity and desperate need
I'll hold you here until you cannot breathe
If I break up with you
You'll find someone new
So I'll choose misery
And I will save you
You can hate me
They'll all be disgusted
Darlin' it's poetic
It's pathetic justice
