

Lagwagon, One Thing To Live

A look in your eyes what can I say,
You left us here and it's a shame,
I would like to have helped,
To begin again,
But thankful for such potential,
You decided you fate,
One thing to live.....

A look at you now what's in a name,
You left them there, it was a shame,
They would like to have helped,
Again to begin,
But potential was yours never ours,
Before you chose your fate,
Before you asked them all to wait,
Left standing there to watch you playing with your matches,
One good burn deserves another two,
But one thing to live is one thing to live,
Selfish fool nobody loves you,
Self resent how can they trust you,
Walk around with like a burned out match,
It will never catch,
Why should you die with dignity,
You lived in a shame as you ask them all to wait,
Left standing here to watch you lying in your ashes,
One good burn deserves another two,
One thing to live is one thing to live.
