

Lake, See Them Glow

I heard she's [on] as the record

She swings a hot tambourine.

And people say that she'll join the band,

When she learns to sing.

Right now they're making a movie

A tragic love affair.

The parts they played were just tailor made,

For such a lovely pair.

See them glow, glowing like new lovers.

See them glow, see them glow with love.

Glowing like new lovers. See them glow.

Their life is a show where ever they go.

You read their names almost daily, yeah.

Last night they went to the show.

We all could see they were superstars:

They wore white from head to toe.

They fell in love in the South of France,

and the media went wild, wild, wild.

And you can see everywhere they go

Everyboy cries.

See them glow, glowing like new lovers.

See them glow, see them glow with love.

Glowing like new lovers. See them glow.

Their life is a show, just see how they glow.
