

Lambretta, So Unreal

You found me in a corner
Didn't know which way to go
I was feeling sad and lonely
But you showed me how to get to where
I was supposed to go
You knew things I never heard of
Told me words I didn't know
And you took me to some places
Where I would never go

Can't you see my life is so unreal
I still have my heart for you to steal
You just left me wounds that cannot heal
I still have my heart for you to steal
(Can't you see my life is so unreal)

The precious little moments
That we use to have back then
Is stuck inside my memory
And I will never find a man like you again
Can't you see my life is so unreal
I still have my heart for you to steal
You just left me wounds that cannot heal
I still have my heart for you to steal
(Can't you see my life is so unreal)

I still love you can't you see
Love was meant for you and me
But you just wanted a friend
I tried to tell you how I feel
You didn't think it was for real
'Cause you thought I was your friend, and nothing else
