

Lamya, Never Enough

This does not affect you
... you say

It's not against you
... you say

It's my problem
my demons
that rage round my mind
Turning me blind
I don't see like no ordinary man

Yeah? Well, that's my life
That you're throwing
Down the back of your throat
Hey, and those are my dreams
Heading for an overdose
You suck my blood
And you bleed me dry
And I care so much
I don't care anymore

I would bare my
naked throat
To your blade of pain
But it's never enough
No, never enough

I could rip my heart
Out and lay it
On the ground before you
But it's never enough
No, never enough

Let you booze away
The best of my tender years
But it's never enough
No, never enough

I would throw myself upon
A burning flame
For you
But it's never enough
Never enough

I fed you once from
My soul
Now I'm forever slave to Your needs.
I'm weighed down in sin
No freedom within
I don't live like no
Ordinary girl

'cos that's my life
That you're throwing
Down the back of your throat
Hey, and those are my dreams
You suck my blood
And you bleed me dry
And I care so much
I don't care anymore

I think I would die
for you

I could rip my heart
Out and lay it
On the ground before you
But it's never enough
Never enough

What more do you want from me?
What God would make
you happy?
How much blood
Would quench your thirst?

I gave you my best
And you left me with your worst
Everything That I tried to do
It was never enough for you
Boy, like a toy you cast me aside
I tried, I tried, I tried

(But it's never enough... never enough)

I would bare my
naked throat
But it's never enough
No, never enough

I could rip my heart (x2)
Out and lay it
On the ground before you
No, never enough

Mmmm...Mmmmm

I just don't know
