Land of Tales, Nobody dares

If I could turn back time and take back what is mine
I would search for you forever
I would never say never
If I could turn back time
and feel so much more alive
I would open all the doors
I would change the lonely course
I would open my tired eyes
to see you like I did for the first time
Nobody dares nobody dares to love
Nobody dares nobody dares before the love ends
If I could turn back time
like I do in my mind
It would mend my broken heart
It would change my lonely part
If I could turn back time
be there for you to find I would love you forever
I would never say never
Nobody dares nobody dares to love
Nobody dares nobody dares before the love ends
