

Land of Tales, So long

Today Im going to end the thing I started long ago theres no point in carrying on when my heart hangs so low I used to see a reason in all these foolish games but now I face the truth and I am willing to take the blame
It's not easy to sleep alone
It's not easy to be on your own
maybe well find another place
that we can someday call a home
So long goodbye don't waste your time
You got your life and I got mine
You'll be alright goodbye Theres an empty picture frame that hangs by my door the withered flowers in a vase that lies broken on the floor
It's not easy to sleep alone
It's not easy to be on your own
maybe well find another place
that we can someday call a home
So long goodbye don't waste your time
You got your life and I got mine
You'll be alright goodbye
