

Landau James E.F, Did It Ever Occur To You

MELANIE

Did it ever occur to you
That when the two of us are around,
Everything else looks like specks of dirt to you,
Just passing by
The nighttime sky
And psychedelic sparks fall to the ground?
Everything induces dizziness,
Your head, like, totally turns to ai,
I'm feeling so happily vacant -- isn't this
The world's best way
To spend a stay
While so urbane and light and debonair?

HAKEEM

You are the epitome
Of all the female world, and I of all the male

It means
More than just a bit to me
That we two can see each other below the veil.
[Lights dim out.]
