

Lanemeyer, My Very Own Winnie Cooper

standing here, your eyes they seem to match the sky more beautiful than anything that i've ever seen before i said, "no i'm not coming back" but i swear, that i will run right back to you this is the life we had to live this is the life we had to leave behind to understand all of this standing here and blowing kisses at the sky remember once there was a time you were the only star in mine then i said no, i'm not coming bck no i'm not coming back to you
this is the life we had to leave behind to understand that this, this could be it you could have been the one.
