

Lanemeyer, What a Shitty Summer

When It's over, go and leave me
just don't say that I never wanted you
Thought I showed you, how much I liked you
To bad I lost you, another dream come

True enough to tell me that you're leaving me today
Guess I never meant that much to you anyway
Still the stars will shine over the lake and on your face
God I miss you, and God I miss this place

Now it's over, go and leave me
Just don't say that I never wanted you
I think about you for ever day now
Tried to forget you, I'll never know how

Hard it is, you tell me that you're leaving me today
Guess I never meant that much to you anyway
Still the stars will shine over the lake and on your face
God I miss you, and God I miss this place

True enough to tell me that you're leaving me today
Guess I never meant that much to you anyway
Still the stars will shine over the lake and on your face
God I miss you, and God I miss this place
God I miss you, and God I miss this place
God I miss you, and God I miss this place
