

Lanterns On The Lake, I Will Lay You Down

Youve got to trust yourself
You are your only hope
There is no guiding light
There is no holy force
Do what youve got to do
Be all you can
There is no calling all (?) divine plan

I dont need a prophet
To tell me their lies
All hail to the one
Ill love til I die
At least hes here
And knows how to dance when youre afraid

I will lay you down
I will bring you flowers
I will lay you down
I will bring you flowers

So youre tired
Your heart beats
In ways you cant explain
Take all you need
Give all you have
I know youve been too far between

We dont need a prophet
All seeing from above
Just be all you can
Youve got to do what you love
At least its real
And youll know
How to dance when youre afraid

I will lay you down
I will bring you flowers
I will lay you down
I will bring you flowers

Say what you like
Why Im only the life that I bleed (?)
And say what you like
Why Im only the songs that I breathe

Youve got to trust yourself

I will bring you flowers
