

LANY, dancing in the kitchen city lights looking like ice underneath the stars beautiful but i'd rather be right here where we are go and tell your friends we're running late again whatcha think pour another drink and call off the car i could spend a thousand nights right here inside this room

swear the only one i want is you
and it doesn't matter what we do we could have nothing at all and it'd still feel like nothing's missing now we're moving like we're on moon don't perignon drip on our shoes we could fly around the world but always end up dancing in the kitchen i don't mind it this whole town goes up in flames as long as i got you with me i'll be ok slide across the floor i am forever yours whatcha think pour another drink put it on replay

swear the only one i want is you
and it doesn't matter what we do
we could have nothing at all
and it'd still feel like nothing's missing
now we're moving like we're on moon
don't perignon drip on our shoes
we could fly around the world
but always end up dancing in the kitchen