

Lapis Lazuli, Dragged Into Shade

As I look back, I cannot understand it
How can this be, I don't see how it happened me

I've been deceived, left out in the cold
I've been misled, wrapped in a veil of lies

I have been so blind
I've been led into shadows

(Dragged into shade)
As I put the dagger in your spine
Watch your life spark fading out, goodbye

And I look upon your spirit
Shining black, the great deceiver

All this trust you put in all my lies
Will have been in vain for all of time

And I look upon your spirit
Nothingness, the grandest schemer
Nothing ahead, all has been lost forever
Wandering round, waiting for sleep just once more

I've been deceived, left here to die
I've been misled, once more

I've been so blind
I've been led into shadows
(Dragged into shade)
