

Lapis Lazuli, Faith Forgotten

I have let this pass too long, I have blindly followed you, but now
This will soon all be over, all will be forgotten, and buried deep inside
For now, forever, until the end of time, fading

I have seen this gone too far, I have idly stood and waited, but now
We will soon see the ending, all the memories be erased, and lost forevermore tonight, this hour, until the end of us, dying

Now I pass through the gates, and I know I will never look back
Im stepping away, and this will not be no more

Now I pass through the gates, and I know I will never look back
Im stepping away, and this will not be no more
