

Lapis Lazuli, High

Running from this madness
Nightmares made reality
Coming for us
They will stop at nothing else

What must I do to stay alive?
Why is it me, this ain't my fight

Descend, sacrificing
One eye for another eye
Sky is falling
Will we see the end of this?

Another life is burning out
The freezing death is grasping me

You will all kneel for me
The highest one, a selfmade god
You will fall, bow to me
Means to an end, a justified loss

What makes them think that they have the right to decide over me
No I won't let them push me down, make me their puppet
Pull the strings and watch me dance

The innocense in your eyes
Give me the honour to put that flame out
The fear breaks you down
As you surrender to me

Let me take your lives, lay down your arms
Don't make this harder than it has to be
The end of an era has come, there is nothing that you can do to prevent the apocalypse

Ascend from the dying
Wake up from eternal sleep
Take back control
Arise from the ashes now

This will not be my final hour
You have not seen the last of me

As the walls are crumbling
A new dawn rising again
Tears have fallen
But well see another day

I live to fight another day
The gates of heaven has to wait

You will all kneel for me
The highest one, a selfmade god
You will fall, bow to me
Means to an end, a justified loss