

Larrikin Love, On Sussex Downs

I could breathe so deep
The joyous backdrop of my eyes ached
I smelled until it hurt
The centre of the field was at peace.

For today I am a wild creature
And tomorrow I will be lost again
Yes today I am a wild creature
And tomorrow I will be lost again

I threw my shoes to the right
I flung my socks to the left
My shirt came off...I fed it to a cow

I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together.
I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together

I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together
I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together
