

Larry, Razor's Edge

Fraidy cat fraidy cat stuck in a tree
Yelling and screaming it's got to be free yeah
That Fraidy cat fraidy cat slipped off the ledge
Forty foot drop down to the edge
Into the afterlife, to the razor's edge
Queen's of oblivion share the last earthly wedge (the last peace)
So don't be a fraidy cat stuck in a tree yelling and screaming you've got to be free yeah (just be free)
You can be a healer of tremendous grace
You can put love back in it's place
You can be the sentiment of objective reason
Learn, grow, change with the seasons (know you can) Know you can
So don't be blind when it's easy to see the war is over peace comes to thee yeah
And don't be deaf and fall on dumb ears
The songs mean more when you have known them for years, yes yes yes
My brothes and my sisters on to greener grass
Queens of oblivion
They can just kiss my ass
So don't be deaf man don't be blind
Don't be dumb man
just be kind oh be kind
You can be a healer of tremendous grace
You can put love back in it's place
You can be the sentiment of objective reason
Learn, grow, change with the seasons
