

Laura Pausini, Do I Dare

Even now, when I see you I start to re-live you Don't know how I could ever begin to forgive you
I never thought about it, I learned to live without it
But nothin' seemed to feel the same
If I should try again - and you should lie again
Don't know if I could stand the pain

Do I dare,
Let you in, once again and surrender
Should I care,
Should I trust, when my heart still remember
How you lied, how I cried, and now you say you
wanna make it right
So I ask, won't you hear my prayer
Do I love you, do I trust - do I dare

Tell me why,
Did you play such a game, last September?
Pretty lies - Were you real, were you just a pretender

But I now you're back again,
Sayin' that that was then
And how you're gonna change your ways
I don't know what to do
'Cause I'm still feelin' you
But will the story end the same

Do I dare,
Let you in, once again and surrender
Should I care,
Should I trust, when my heart still remember
How you lied, how I cried, and now you say you
wanna make it right
So I ask, won't you hear my prayer
Do I love you, do I trust - do I dare

I never thought about it, I learned to live without it
But now sometimes I feels just like I'm gonna die without it
I don't know what to do 'Cause I am still feelin' you
And I am still afraid, that you'd break my heart in two
