

Laura Pausini, I Surrender

I can't pretend anymore
That I'm not affected, I'm not moved
I can't lie to myself that I'm not always thinkin' of you
You make me strong
You show me I'm not weak to fall in love
When I thought I'd never need
Now I can't get enough

I always made it on my own
I always thought that I would keep control, you changed everything I believe in
And now I just can't fight this feelin' baby

I raise my hands and I surrender
'Cause your love is too strong and I can't go on
Without your tender arms around me
I raise my hands and I surrender
I don't wanna resist 'cause your touch and your kiss
Have shattered my defenses
I surrender

I have to admit that I
I never thought I'd need someone this way
'Cause you opened my eyes so that I
I could see so much more

I always made it on my own
I always thought that I would keep control, you changed everything I believe in
And now I just can't fight this feelin' baby

I raise my hands and I surrender
'Cause your love is too strong and I can't go on
Without your tender arms around me
I raise my hands and I surrender
I don't wanna resist 'cause your touch and your kiss
Have shattered my defenses
I surrender

I surrender to this feelin' in my heart
I surrender to the safety of your arms
To the touch of your lips, to the taste of your kisses

(I raise my hands and I)
Ooh, baby, baby
'Cause your love is too strong and I can't go on
Without your tender arms around me, yeah
I raise my hands and I surrender
'Cause your love is too strong and I can't go on Without your...without your...
I surrender

I raise my hands and I surrender
'Cause your love is too strong and I can't go on...
(Without your tender arms around me)
'Cause I surrender

I can't pretend anymore
I can't lie to myself that I'm not always thinkin' of you
