

Laura Pausini, Looking For An Angel

Well I'm looking for an angel someone to watch over me someone to lean on my shoulder I wanna feel how love can be but these things they don't come easy I've learned my lesson well some things don't work the way you planned sometimes you just can't tell

SO I'M LOOKING FOR AN ANGEL someone to let you know my love for you seems I've never felt this way before I never wanted to see just what love can do
but these things they don't come easy
I've learned my lesson well when things don't work the way you planned you need someone to tell

You are my paradise
the source of my desires I believe in you so much I'm longing for your touch I need you by my side so all my dreams will fly

I can't live this way because I know
I cry alone
I fear to cry alone alone so what will I do without you who will I see when I close my eyes

I can't face another night alone without you here cause I can't face the night without you here alone without you here
sometimes you just can't tell
you are my paradise
the source of my desires I believe in you so much

I'm waiting here for your touch
I need you by my side so with my dreams I can touch the sky
I can't live this way cause this time I know
I cry alone
I fear to cry here alone so I'm looking for an angel I'm looking for you.
