Leaf-Fat, Idols Like Icarus

I'll climb the highest mountain Just to scream your secrets out, all out so loud That the deaf will hear again And the blind will see the end

So the dreams are over My wings are cut, left behind Hard concrete is waiting For you to cross the line

Next time you fly so high Don't forget the sun Wax will melt like you had felt When you fell straight into the ocean

Seconds away from the past From what lasts A sec away from the past Too fast you're possesed
