

Leah Andreone, Inconceivable

I know you can't imagine
Angels taking flight
I know you can't imagine
Your darkest hour light

You might think it strange
But I know that you can fly
I know you don't believe
But there's heaven in your eyes

And when you think you're not enough
Just know that I do
Even though it's inconceivable to you

I know you can't imagine
You could heal the blind
I know you can't imagine
You could change my life

You don't seem to see
You're the miracle in me
I know you don't agree
But the world needs you to breathe

And when you think you're not enough
Just know that I do
Even though it's inconceivable to you

I can't imagine why
Your eyes don't make you smile
I can't imagine why
You don't see you're worth my while

And maybe you don't see it now
Still I know it's true
Even though it's inconceivable to you

I know you can't imagine
Standing on the moon
I know you can't imagine
This song's about you

Please don't go away
Take a step, it'd be too far
I'm not overreacting
I just see things as they are

And when you think you're not enough
Just know that I do
Even though it's inconceivable to you
