

Leah Andreone, You Pull Me Through

I'd listen to my secrets
I'd whisper in the dark
Can someone take these pieces
Make me a brand new heart

I'd smile without a reason
I'd laugh until I cried
But you make things look so fine
I like you by my side

From out of the blue
When I was down you turned me inside out

And I said hey (hey)
With everything you do
And with all the things you say
You make everything ok

And I said hey (hey)
Whenever you're around
You know my feet don't touch the ground
And when I want to fly away
You pull me through

I'll give you what you gave me
I'll give you what you need
I want to fall into your eyes
Be all that you can see

Never let go of this body
I'll never let go of your hand
Let's go down in history
Write letters in the sand

From out of the blue
When I was down you turned me inside out

And I said hey (hey)
With everything you do
And with all the things you say
You make everything ok

And I said hey (hey)
Whenever you're around
You know my feet don't touch the ground
And when I want to fly away
You pull me through

So many hazy shades of gray (yeah yeah)
You throw me sunshine make me feel ok
Yeah yeah

From out of the blue
When I was down you turned me inside out
You turned me all around

And I said hey (hey)
With everything you do

And I said hey (hey)

And when I want to fly away

And I said hey

And I said hey
You pull me through
You pull me through
You pull me through
