

Leanna, Pheromones

She works late to pay for things that she cant afford,
And she spends time buying time to be bored
All she wants is to know that shes adored by someone Youre the one, youre the one, youre the one now its on

Do you know, how I love the way you caress my face and the way you love me?
And do you know, that when I am alone I still smell your cologne
and it lingers on me?
You should know that youre all I know! And it keeps me moving,
Ya you keep me moving onthrough it all!

Another late night still waits right outside your door,
Cause she cant wait to take you right on top of this floor
Another long night you still leave her comin back for more Cause youre the one, the only one, youre the one, youre the one now its on

Do you know, how I love the way you caress my face
and the way you love me?
And do you know that when I am alone I still smell your cologne
and it lingers on me?
You should know that youre all I know! And it keeps me moving,
Ya you keep me moving onthrough it all!

Days they waste away, the sun still sets the same, but you change everything!
