

Leanna, You Can Talk The Talk, But Can You Ro

In everything that I thought I should do
And in all the blame that I placed on you was wrong
But before I knew it, you were long gone
I never thought that I held this many tears,
But this rivers proof that Im missing you so dear

I need you now I need you here with me,
I need you now, baby listen to me!

From now on, I promise to hold you and tell you when Im wrong
Listen and hold you close
Tell you youre beautiful
Treat you the way youve always treated me
Baby give me a second chanceto be everything

Its getting hard for me to walk on my own,
My knees are weak and my strength is gone (I was wrong)
Now I know it and I want you to come home
These sheets are evidence of sleepless nights
And my red eyes the signs of tears that Ive cried

I need you now I need you here with me,
I need you now, baby listen to me!

From now on, I promise to hold you and tell you when Im wrong
Listen and hold you close
Tell you youre beautiful
Treat you the way youve always treated me
Baby give me a second chanceto be everything

One more night on my own, means one more night in your clothes
One last time to feel your bones

From now on, I promise to hold you and tell you when Im wrong
Listen and hold you close
Tell you youre beautiful
Treat you the way youve always treated me
Baby give me a second chanceto be everything
