

Lee Greenwood, I Still Believe

Sometimes it easy
And sometimes its not
Sometimes I can't think of one thing we've got
A common to keep us from falling apart
To keep holding on with love in our hearts
Sometimes it's heaven
And sometimes it's hell
Sometimes it seems we would be just as well
Off on our own knowing somebody else
Then I think about all we've been through

(chorus)

There have been so many nights that you've saved me
There have been so many mornings you gave me
The courage to get up and get outta bed
To face the world one more day
There have been so many trials we've conquered together
So many miles of rough roads we've weathered
And I swear forever that I'll never leave
Cause lady I still believe

You can bring out my best
You can bring out my worst
You feed every hunger
Then leave me burning with thirst
And at the moment that I know that I'll surely die
You love is my fountain of life

(repeat chorus)

Oh Lady I still believe