

Lee Roy Parnell, Night After Night

Day after day I do alright I hardly think about you
Finding a way each waking hour to live my life without you
But when I lay down and I close my eyes and I try to sleep
Thought you're not around it's like you're here with me

Night after night you stay on my mind
Night after night I dream I hold you tight night after night

Time after time I meet someone hoping it will last forever
But soon I find it's not the same as when we were together
I struggle alone to convince myself that I'll be alright
Somewhere before dawn I always lose the fight

Night after night...

Your empty pillow I reach for in the dark
Is like the empty place you left here in my heart

[guitar]
Night after night...
Night after night...
