

Lee Ryan, Army Of Lovers

There's an army of lovers dying to meet you
Dying to make your acquaintance
It could be you or it could be me So don't let go
Because I need you so.

Im yours, and you are mine
There's something about you baby
I want to hold you tonight

Accident happen strangest of places
How come they happen at all
Look for the turning for something or nothing
I won't let go
Because I need you so.

Im yours and you are mine
There's something about you baby
I want to hold you tonight

Every time I see you, you complete my life
Got to find an answer stay with me tonight
Stay with me, oh baby won't you stay with me
Stay with me

There's an army of lovers dying to meet you
Dying to make your acquaintance.
