

Left Eye, Im Losing You

Sometimes I can't find the words to explain exactly how I feel cause it's deep, real deep and I just hope that you can see how deep it is by listenin' to this song now let me open up my heart and let you read just what I wrote when you had took them final steps of death and left my heart broken in two but you had to damn

I wish that I could have a talk with the Eternal Man I wish that you was here with me right now holdin' my hand I feel I can't go on and don't nobody understand it's makes me wonder why and if I have to die why is this my biggest fear I can only look above and just let heaven wipe my fears cause if I'm losing you

and if I'm losing you
to whom will I confide, and who will hear my cry
and if I'm losing you
then will you see me through
through the day through the night though you're gone will you stay
by my side

that all my nieces wanna talk to the Lord my father thanks for blessing me when the others didn't bother life goes on, got to stay strong Hardly done some wrong but hardly done some right Two will cross a lonely night To who's in my heart nobody knows the pain a chance to hide it holding back my tears
a chance to fight it but it's buildin' up inside of me this heavy load help me Lord before I explode please take my soul

cause if I'm losing you
and if I'm losing you
to whom will I confide, and who will hear my cry
and if I'm losing you

see I don't know if I could say goodbye to yesterday cause when you leave and go to heaven it's so far away and I cant even stop to think to wipe my tears away but maybe He thought it was best for you to come and stay what can I say just keep your peoples close to you so you can cherish every memory they stood through and stood true so if you meet that crossroad then you could say that you opened up your heart and just let heaven wipe your tears away

and if I close my eyes at night will I see you in heaven?
and if the Lord takes my life I hope I see you in heaven just wipe those tears away that felt today and when He comes be prepared for a brighter day take me away

and if I close my eyes at night will I see you in heaven?

and if I'm losing you
to whom will I confide, and who will hear my cry
and if I'm losing you
though your gone will you stay
by my side

I'm losing you (and I hope that you can see how deep it was by listenin' to the words of this song) ooooh yeeah oooooooo I'm losing you wooo oooo yeah (please stay babe, please stay. I wanna see you, aah yeah) when you're far away theres nothing I can say hope will bring for a brighter day and if there's a way for you to stay

stay in my life oh forever I'm losing you
oooooh yeah
if I'm losing.. (you)
