

Left Front Tire, Captivated

Why not try and captivate me?

It makes more sense than prying into me and you drive to breach my mind.

Do you have a vision?

A simple something will do just fine.

Do you believe in making close friends with fascination?

Will you find a way to keep it inside?

I could see this getting no-where.

A view like yours just seems so hard to please, but optimism just sounds so much better to me.

So I drive...to reach your mind.

Do you believe in making close friends with fascination?

Will you find a way to keep it inside?

Will you let me come inside?

Do you have a vision?

A simple something will do just fine.

Do you believe in making close friends with fascination all the time?

Do you have a vision?

I said now come on baby blow my mind.

Do you believe in making close friends with fascination?

Will you find a way to keep it inside?
