Left Front Tire, Days Like These

Woke up late again today And now the clouds are dark and grey I've always loved the rain. Well there's only so much that I can do To keep away the broken thoughts of you But i'll be okay. I'll just lock the doors and unplug the phone And step back into my comfort zone Where I know now that i'll be okay.

But then there's days like (days like) Days like these (Days like these) Days like these Make me wish that i'd just let it fly.

Well everything still looks the same There's no-one left for me to blame I'll face another day. But there's only so much that they can say To make me numb and keep the pain away Well it's all up to me. Now i'm back on my feet with open eyes And i've taken the time to realise That it's all up to me.

But then there's days like (days like) Days like these (days like these) Days like these Make me wish that you were still by my side.

Days like (days like) Days like these (days like these) Days like (days like) Days like these (days like these) Days like these...
