Left Hand Solution, Nightbloom

(words: Barthold, music: Mrdstam, Barthold, Selin)

Seeding silence from words unspoken As you slowly fade Symbols of lust, never be broken But in the dawn youll wither away

Open up again as your body ascends

Wandering through forests of ebony In your floral splendour cell When the night comes over again Ill be back with you in hell

Open up again as your body ascends

To roam within all darkness and flee from every light Solitude is dying as you flourish at night
