

Lefty, Everything

I could tell you something but you'd never keep it to yourself never shut your mouth and one day it's gonna get you in the end shouldn't of told you wish i didn't know you want to make you just fade away frustrated so you threw it all away
everything
yeah you threw it all away

yes you love it when your sitting on the edge tugging on the rope watching everybody spin soon enough I know your gonna wind up mixed up in it shouldn't of told you wish i didn't know you but you love to see me in pain

everything
now you started over with nothing
everything
you threw it all away ...everything spinning in circles

till you find another crowd

i could tell you something but you'd never keep it to yourself
never shut your mouth and one day you'll throw it all away
