Lehavoth, Reptile

All the promises you hold in yourself An obvious manipulation

I
Shall leave hollow inside
To touch yourself
Not in our hearts
And to stand above
will be a matter of time Cause naked you come and naked you shall leave this ground
With a trail of lies left behind

Then I'll come
The prophet who didn't asked to be

Now see what I've known The past and the future

For his past is the future and those days are behind us