

Lehnen, Daredevil

i sit down like a perfect gentleman.
but reality won't settle in.
i swallow too much change in an instant.
that means stomach pains from the distance.
life is different, i am different now you're not here.
how is this happening?
oh hello, it's nice to see you again. (i've been walking)
you have no idea how long it felt. (without you here)
i come back to myself in increments. (such a daredevil) until it hits me i imagined it. (why can't I move)
life is different, i am different now you're not here.
how is this happening?
i'm such a daredevil, why can't I move?
