

Leiahdorus, Flowers

She lives for flowers everyday
When she's with me
She hides the grey
Put on your skin it's time for tea
The world lights up so quietly
You're swimming in my mind so constantly
And every other time you're all I see

I'll drink you in
When I'm in need
I'll pour you out
You're all I see

The world evolves so patiently
To clone these feelings of jubilee
Choose what my eyes are to see
Can you point the beauty out
Just for me...
