

Leki, Responsible

Chorus:

It could've been different.

It's the choices you make

That decide your fate.

'cause it's you only you who's responsible.

It's never too late to change your day,

gotta change your way.

'cause it's you,

only you who's responsible.

I wanna be a part of the world I'm in.

But i don't understand you, 'nd what i'm seeing.

My mama always said, you can't change the world.

'nd you can't help somebody, who doesn't wanna hear your words.

If they don't wanna be healed, there's nothin' you can do about it.

You can only heel yourself be yourself, and be the best at it.

It did not come to me. Until now, recently.

Don't ask me how or why.

(Chorus)

Certain dreams dropped long ago.

Why i left them I do not know.

Memories in my head dwell.

Of the crazy things i used to tell.

But my mouth was big and my heart was small.

and i put into practice almost nothing at all.

Gaining years bringin' loss of faith.

Where's the touch with the goals I anticipate?

Sometimes i'm full force then i stop.

Back 'n froth, keep on 'n give up.

Why oh why i cry i pray.

Angry at the boss, what's the game he's playin'?

(Chorus)
