

LeMarvin, Impossible

you want the world and everything in it you want the time each and every minute you dont give me a chance to miss you like i should why dont you understand i do it if i could but you seem to think that you should never cry you think that i can push the clouds out of the sky im not here to be your fan im here to be your man im tryina understand but honestly i cant why dont you put yourself in my shoes for a day then you would probably feel the same girl i wish that i can give you everything you been wanting but you make it so hard cus you want all or nothing and i cant do the impossible what you want from me is impossible i love you but you never wanna give and take you want things your way and i aint gon do it all you gotta come half way cus i cant do the impossible loving you is next to impossible so let me go ill give you gifts, and ill give you love ill give my soul, still it aint enough you wake so seflishly, you so damn hard to please i cant fulfill your needs coz your needs never cease no youve never once, asked me how i been youre too busy telling me you need more attention think youre better off alone, at least that way youll know exactly what you want, cus you want way too much why dont you put yourself in my shoes for a day then youll probably feel the same
you wanna stay, you want things your way you dont want a man whos gon protect you cherish and respect you you give me the woman that i need you dont make me feel like i impress you you make me regret you and i dont understand why you take for granted the things i do to comfort you and i aint gonna stick around and let you tear me down now someone else can play your fool 2x
