

Lennie Moreno, Be Yourself

Chorus:

Why you gotta live your life
Through the look of others' eyes?
When you gonna realize what's good on you? So...
No attention to those lies,
Twisted bodies advertised,
Be yourself and recognize
It's good on you

It all started looking at yourself,
Just thinking about a thing you never felt,
3 quarters of your belt,
Now playing with your health,
You shouldn't try to cross a certain line,
Skipping lunch you must be out of your mind.
But Lennie understand, you formulate your plan: supplying and demand,
But fuck it, be yourself and never mind about the people judging you and dissing you,
I know it makes you locked up and eating makes you fucked up,
I really can't believe you switched 125 to 95, I realized:
Look in your eyes and recognize
It's really not your fault,
I know the world is cold,
You're looking very old: recuperate your soul.

Chorus

Can't escape the pressure we put upon each other
To make ourselves look better, until we lose our way,
No use in struggling, just to make yourself fit in,
With a slanted view of thin, you're wasting away...
Go love yourself just the way that you are
And just don't give a damn what they say

Chorus

The moral of the story is you don't need to worry,
Cuz real man and real girls can recognize you're so sweet,
And don't cheat I feel it in your heart quick beat,
You seem so weak: it's been like 3 days and 3 weeks that you didn't even eat,
You're losing all, you're charming, you're starving, you're making up these problems,
Got to face reality, got to be,
Rather be insanity,
You got to find a path, you got a question, ask it,
These models are made of plastic, how drastic,
I think that you're fantastic,
You want to make a change? You're feeling out of range?
It doesn't really matter what's the platter,
Climb the healthy ladder:
I bet you're feeling better!

Chorus
