

Leo Sayer, Innocent Bystander

Standing by the railway station
Waiting for your train.
But the train never comes,
No the train never comes.

And I think I'm going out of my hell
Yes I think I'm going out of my hell.

Running down the track
Trying to reach the end.
But the end never comes,
No the end never comes.

And I think I'm going out of my hell
Yes I think I'm going out of my hell.

I've been waiting for the sun
But it always hides behind the sky.

Time crawls by before my eyes,
That's the story of my life.

And I think I'm going out of my hell
Yes I think I'm going out of my hell.

Aaah aaah

I've been waiting for the sun
But it always hides behind the sky.
Time crawls by before my eyes,
That's the story of my life.

Well I think I'm going out of my
Think I'm going out of my
Think I'm going out of my
Think I'm going out of my hell
