

Leo Sayer, Let Me Know

are you ever gonna change your mind will there ever be another time you gotta let me know I was hoping you would understand love was never meant to be so blind
well I never had to wonder why I've felt this way now for such a long time and it's taken everything I we're no strangers to this world it's true everytime you cry it makes me feel so blue oh won't you let me know take another time
another place
take this heart of mine and dry your face
