

Leonard Cohen, Please don't pass me by

I was walking in New York City and I brushed up against the man in front of me. I felt a cardboard p